Go down to Redondo and see for yourself. At Jefferson street and Grand avenue see the immense stacks of heavy steel rails for the double-tracking of the present two electric lines of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company. The rails are arriving daily. Dirt is now flying. Better buy now. Then there's the Los Angeles & Pacific Railway Co.'s electric line to Redondo, the broad-gauging of which will soon occur. And in addition to the above three electric lines now running to Redondo is the great Santa Fe steam road. With four lines of transportation it would seem as if same would be sufficient, but surveys are in the field laying out the shortest line of all to connect Los Angeles with its choicest seashore suburb—Redondo. Mr. Huntington is now building at Redondo the largest electric power house on the Pacific Coast, to cost $1,200,000, as fast as men and money can do it. Go down and look at the mammoth cement smelter.

THINK SHE IS A CLEVER THIEF.

WELL-DRESSED WOMAN ACCUSED OF SHREWD ROBBERIES.

Pointed Out to the Police by an Alleged Victim Who Says Her Plan Is to Pretend to Faint and Then Rob Men Who Go to Her Assistance.

Protesting her innocence and respectability, a handsome and stylishly-dressed young woman was arrested on Main street last night and sent to Central Station on suspicion of being one of the most clever female criminals on the Coast. At the sergeant's window she gave the name of Mrs. M. P. Farr of No. 40 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena. The man who caused her arrest, the police said, claimed to be J. C. Londer, a San Francisco merchant.

The man says he is the person who took the woman before the City Recorder of Venice on the night of July 4 and charged her with having robbed him. At Venice the man gave the name of J. A. Cannon, and the woman declared that her name was Miss Clara Storey. About the case the police at Central Station seem to have no definite information.

A patrolman was requested by Londer to accompany him and make an arrest. Londer told the officer that he had been shadowing a woman and that he had been a victim of her in San Francisco. Following the arrest, the woman was taken to the police station, where she was held in a cell. The two young men stated that they had seen the woman arrested at Venice and were following her through the city when the arrest occurred.

Londer stated to the officers that he had been a victim of the woman in Venice, and that he had been victimized by her in Venice. He declared that the woman was wanted in San Francisco for having picked a man's pocket of $250 but she had managed to escape.

The officers stated that the woman answers the description of the woman who had been making several attempts at robbery in the various beach towns. Reports that a woman had been "fainting" in the arms of men who wear diamond studs and suddenly become ill while in company with women who carry richly-laden handbags and making an attempt to steal the diamonds were frequently made from beach resorts.

It was definitely ascertained that the woman does not reside at the number Raymond avenue, Pasadena, as claimed by Londer. Londer is staying at the Angelus Hotel, the police say.

SARABIA IS NOW FREE.

Kidnaped Prisoner Is Surrendered by Mexico and Turned Loose in Arizona.

DOUGLAS (ARIZ.) July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Manuel Sarabia was brought to the United States today and turned over to the captain of the Arizona Rangers.

Capt. Wheeler went to Hermosillo, where he interviewed Gov. Torres and laid the entire matter before him, explaining that Sarabia was kidnaped by American and Mexican officers, and should be returned to keep entire friendship between the two governments. Gov. Torres stated that he was sorry that the matter had arisen, and that the fault lay entirely in his department; that he would at once turn the prisoner free and give him the privilege of going wherever he chose.

Capt. Wheeler brought Sarabia back to the United States and turned him loose a free man in Douglas tonight. Gov. Torres said that the only charge against Sarabia was that of inciting riot against the government, and that he had never been charged with murder.

NEW POST-CARD RULE MADE.

After August 1 Messages May Be Written on Left Third of Face of Postals.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

WASHINGTON, July 12.—For years Americans and others have been sending to the United States from foreign countries postal cards and post cards (private mailing cards) with messages written upon the front as well as upon the back of the cards, although in the country this advantage has been denied the users of government postal cards. Some months ago the United States postal laws and regulations were amended so as to give that privilege to buyers of post cards, but such a concession was not made applicable to postal bearing post cards.

In order to revoke this inconsistency and to prevent further confusion and annoyance to the public, Postmaster-General Meyer today promulgated an order, effective August 1, 1907, providing that the left side of a postal card may be divided by a vertical line placed one-third of the distance from the left edge of the card, the portion to be used for a message, etc., as to the right to be used for the address only. A very thin sheet of paper may be attached to the card, and such a postal may bear both writing and printing. Advertisements, illustrations or writing may appear upon the back of the card and upon the left third of the front.

In order to prevent particles of glass, metal, tinzel or other such substances are declared to be unmailable, except when enclosed in envelopes with proper postage or if treated in such a manner as will prevent the materials from being rubbed off or injuring the hands of the persons handling the mails.

POLO PLAYERS ARE WARNED.

Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Philadelphia Threatens Crusade.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Albert Edward Kennedy, the crack polo player, denied today that he wept at his hearing yesterday, in which he was charged with wantonly and cruelly using his pony. Col. Muckle, president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, stated, however, that he did cry. Col. Muckle said today that he will secure a transcript of the testimony and endeavor to have the "misconduct of justice" rectified. He also stated that during the next polo season he will have his full force of agents at the polo grounds and assert their authority to take every man who is guilty of ill use of it, and that the cases will not be heard by the justice who acquiesced in Kennedy's case because of his influence rather than his innocence.

Japanese Agitate, Dethronement of the Korean Emperor for The Hague Affair.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SEOUL (Korea) July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A state of panic prevails in the palace. Reports from Japan show the active agitation for the dethronement of the Korean Emperor on account of his part in The Hague affair have caused a great sensation. Koreans are reported as being greatly depressed. The regular weekly Cabinet meeting was not held, the Emperor reporting himself as being unable to attend. The Koreans are getting some indication of the Japanese policy from Marquis Ito have met with repeated declara-

COMMISSIONER TO REPORT SOON.

Finding of Investigating Board in the U. P. Matter to Be Made Public.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Wall street today was treated to a very widely-circulated rumor that the formal report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Union Pacific investigation was to be made public on Sunday or Monday. According to the gossip of the street, the report will be exceedingly severe in some particulars, but will fall far short of the ground for criminal prosecution against Mr. Harriman. In some quarters it is held that this latter feature will accord a favorable reception to the Commerce Commission's findings.

However, it is believed elsewhere that the report will contain a recommendation that civil suits be brought to test the legality of the Union Pacific's holdings of Southern Pacific.

NOT DIPLOMATIC AFFAIR.

German Paper Says Japan's Attitude Is Result of Victories and of Acquired Importance.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BERLIN, July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) With the assertion that the disparaging remarks about the American navy credited to Admiral Sakuma merely reflect what all Japanese think, the usually conservative Berliner Tageblatt today publishes a long analytic review of American-Japanese relations.

It arrives at the conclusion that the controversy is the logical outgrowth of Japan's late victories and its accession to the position of a world power. Hence the situation, in the opinion of the Tageblatt, is a purely diplomatic one, and should not admit of diplomatic settlement and which lie outside the jurisdiction of any court of arbitration.

SHOW LOSS OF INCOME.

Figures Given by Panhandle on Effect of Two-Cent Passenger Rate in Indiana.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.), July 12.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) I. W. Geer, superintendent of the Panhandle Railroad, presented some figures to the State Board of Tax Commissioners today which instantly aroused their attention.

He appeared in favor of the appeal from the recent assessment made by the board which materially increased the road's taxes. He said the passenger rates in Indiana had increased of between 10 and 15 per cent. in the number carried under the new two-cent fare law, but the receipts showed a falling off of 10 per cent. or $2500 a week.

Two ore trains upon the Great Northern Railroad came together, head on, about twelve miles west of Brookton, Wis. Yesterday J. B. Leonard, brakeman, was killed, and Victor Cline, brakeman, was so badly crushed that he is not expected to live.

A SIGNIFICANT FACT.

The only newspapers in Los Angeles that dare print regularly, day by day, a sworn statement of circulation, are The Times and The Evening News.

INCORRIGIBLES. NO MORAL TRAINING MEANS FEARFUL JAILS.

GRACIOUS hospitality was accorded the visiting Catholic teachers yesterday afternoon, at the Woman's Club House by the ladies of Bishop Conaty's Bible-study class and the Brown House Settlement.

The guests were received by Miss Phillipson, president of the Bible-study class, and Miss Workman, head of the Brown House work. Miss Marie Mullen presided over the punch table.

Among those who enjoyed the occasion were Sisters of Mercy, Sisters of the Holy Names, Catholic teachers from many parts of the country, and a number of the local Catholic priests, including Father Edward of St. Joseph's, Father McLaughlin of the Plaza Church, Father McManus, Father Fahey of the Holy Cross Church, and Father Thomas Conaty, nephew of the bishop.

Tom Karl sang to the assembled company, which was very enthusiastic, and delightful music was also given by Mrs. Mary J. Shaller.

"THE GREAT SCOTT." The speakers of the afternoon were Hon. Joseph Scott and Bishop Conaty, who formally welcomed the visitors.

Mr. Scott was introduced by Miss Phillipson as the first Catholic to become president of the Board of Education in Los Angeles.

"Doubtless dear to us," she said, "because he is the man who secured a rise in salary for the teachers of this city. He is our Joseph Scott," she said, "and I dare to add that some have called him 'the great Scott.'"

Mr. Scott said that he could not monopolize the honor of having raised the teachers' salaries, as he had been aided by several other gentlemen. He said that his attention had first been called to the necessity for such action through a popular avenue—his stomach.

He was asked to take luncheon with the teachers of the East Seventh-street school, where they take turns in preparing the noonday repast. The menu, he declared, was a light Lenten diet, good for a joke once a year, but hardly suitable for steady fare.

"I asked the cost of the luncheon," said Mr. Scott, "and the hostess of the day told me that the usual cost was five cents a plate, but owing to the fact that they were honored that day by the presence of the president of the board, it was said, they served seven cents a plate. I thought it was time to raise their salaries," added Mr. Scott.

His message to the Catholic teachers was one of deep import. In observing the signs of the times, and noting the drift of the speeches at the educational convention, the significant fact to him, he said, was that Catholics and non-Catholics alike are desperately in earnest in desiring a change in a system of education which leaves out every vestige of moral and religious training. In his experience as head of the Board of Education, he said his greatest difficulty had been in enforcing the California law which forbids teaching that there is a God or a hereafter.

RELIGIOUS ESSENTIAL. Education without some definite moral or religious instruction he regarded as merely a sharpening of the wits which would graduate pupils to San Quentin or like institutions. He charged the teachers to put their minds to work to assist in solving this difficult problem. He told them to guard their religious rights, and to be such good exponents of the Catholic religion that the day of bigotry would soon pass away, and the country cease to view with suspicion any introduction of religious instruction in the schools.

Bishop Conaty explained to the visitors the aims and purposes of his Bible-study class, and of the Brown House Settlement.

INTERESTING GUEST. A distinguished visitor at the reception was Miss Lily Whitaker of New Orleans, a notable figure in educational circles in that city, and representing the city superintendent of New Orleans schools, Hon. Warren Easton, at the convention.

For fifteen years, Miss Whitaker has been principal of one of the public schools of New Orleans and in all that time she has not made use of corporal punishment. She won a great fight for the abolition of it in the city schools. She was also the first advocate of co-education in her State.

The 700 children in her school belong to the Junior Civic League of New Orleans, and have a system of self-government which absolutely dispenses with the need of teachers in the school yards. The classes are taken out and brought in by small captains appointed by the pupils themselves, and the teachers are relieved of much work.

Miss Whitaker is a writer as well as a teacher. She is principal of the Orleans College of Oratory, a unique institution, incorporated by the Legislature and holding a city charter as well. Miss Whitaker is accompanied by her sister, Miss Ida Whitaker, teacher in the seventh grade of one of the New Orleans schools.

means an income of $15,000 a year. The property consists of a five-story stone and brick building, on a lot 65x165 feet, containing 210 rooms, which are divided into apartments of two and three rooms each.

The building was erected two years ago at a cost of about $110,000. The land had been in the hands of the owner for several years, and the cost of the lot was almost entirely covered by the present selling price of the property.

The 1505 report of United States Commissioner of Education Brown gives the following data regarding the public schools of California:

Estimated number of male persons, 21,000,000
Population of school age (5 to 18 years), 10,000,000
Number of inhabitants per square mile, 25.5
Per cent. of incorporated places of 1000 and over, 47.7
Per cent. of native whites in total population, 70.2
Per cent. of foreign whites in total population, 29.8
Per cent. of colored persons in total population, 5.5
Adult illiterates unable to write—
Native whites, 1.1
Foreign whites, 2.1
State school census, 4,000,000
Number of pupils, 2,000,000
Per cent. of school population enrolled, 49.18
Average daily attendance, 1,000,000
Male teachers employed, 1,500
Female teachers employed, 3,500
Average number of pupils per teacher, 20
Number of buildings used as school-houses, 2,000
Estimated value of school property, $27,500,000
Public school income from local taxes, $7,750,000
Public school income from State taxes, $1,000,000
Public school expenditure, yearly, $12,250,000
Increase in last year, $1,250,000
Public school income from local taxes, $7,750,000
Public school income from State taxes, $1,000,000
Public school expenditure, yearly, $12,250,000
Increase in last year, $1,250,000

California was admitted to the Union in 1850. Since then her expenditure for education has been as follows:

Year	Amount
1850-1859	$ 2,446,321
1860-1869	2,117,540
1870-1879	2,117,540
1880-1889	2,117,540
1890-1899	2,117,540
1900-1904	42,000,000
Total in fifty-six years	$17,132,000

That is a vast sum for a State the population of which does not yet exceed 2,000,000. It means an average expenditure for schools of $1.60 per child for each of the fifty-six years of existence of the "Golden State," or over $10,000 a day for each of the 200 working days of each year. That $10,000 a day has been worth far more to California than the spending of $100,000 a day for any other purpose. It was Bismarck who said: "Whatever you have the state be, put that in the schools."

The growth in public school attendance is shown in the following table:

Year	Attendance
1880	14,750
1890	54,271
1900	100,000
1904	148,580
1905	160,000
1906	181,520
1907	215,000

ARM CAUGHT IN PULLEY. Boy Sustains Frightful Injuries While Endeavoring to Shift a Belt on a Shaft.

In attempting to shift the belt on a drill-press at the Central machine shop, Keith Hankins, aged 14, caught his hand in the belt, and, before assistance could be given him, his left arm from the finger tips to the elbow was crushed and mangled. Surgeons at the Receiving Hospital set the fractured bones and sewed up the torn flesh, but Hankins will never have much use of his arm.

For some weeks the lad has been employed as an apprentice at the machine shop. He resides at No. 339 Omar street.

The first that the other workmen knew of the lad's peril was when he uttered a piercing cry as the belt jerked him from the floor up to the pulley. Before they could reach him the machinery had crushed and torn his arm in a score of places.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES BY "THE TIMES."

[The Times republishes its declaration of principles—a platform based on the Constitution and the law and even-handed justice for all. It never has been assailed, and never can be.]

During years and years in the past the LOS ANGELES TIMES has stood editorially where it stands today. Among its cherished principles and aims are these:

"It stands for liberty under law; for the Constitution and the Flag. For equal rights to all in the fields of industry and endeavor, whether he be employer or employee, whether 'organized' or independent worker. For the equal right of all workmen to join or not to join labor unions, according to their own individual and respective preferences. For the inviolability of contracts. For industrial peace, coupled with industrial activity, both so essential to the good of all citizens; and industrial peace cannot exist in company with industrial despotism. For the reasonable, lawful and necessary rights of the employer, who, making and meeting the pay roll, and keeping the business running, has the obvious right to control its operations. For the wider and more distinct recognition, support, employment and adequate reward of that numerous aggressive or unorganized, independent workmen of all classes who are the real dependents of the country, who constitute the great body of its labor, who choose not to join unions, and whose rights under the Constitution and the law are every whit as complete and sacred as are the rights of so-called 'organized labor'; and, indeed, more so whenever the one makes itself lawless and the other remains law-abiding. For the punishment of crime without fear or favor, without distinction or discrimination. For the apprehension and punishment of grafters, big and little, and of bribe-givers and bribe-takers, high and low. For the equal rights under the law of all worthy workers to employment and protection therein, and to the legitimate fruits of their labor in other words:

For industrial freedom, which means the inalienable right of every citizen to pursue, undisturbed and unhampered, any lawful occupation of his choice in a lawful way, and to be protected in that right by the whole power of the State and of the nation, if need be. This demand implies an appeal, whenever the need comes, first to the great court of Public Opinion, then to the civil power, and finally to the last resort, to the dread arbitrament of the sword—to the Army and the Navy—which extreme resort can be averted only through mutual respect for human rights and obedience to the civil law. The people of the United States are determined to have peace, even if they have to fight for it.

THE TIMES IS AGAINST—All needless and avoidable disturbances in the fields of labor, and in industrial, commercial, transportation and other lines of business, where repose is so essential to the good of all concerned. It is consequently

Against the strike and the boycott; against the argument of the budgeon for a bribe; against the coming to picketing and all other forms of industrial violence. Against the impudent claim of the weakling delegates that they represent labor in any broad or general sense. They represent only that small, protective, despotic, monopolistic body which masquerades in the guise of "organized labor," and which is not qualified to speak for the great body of labor embracing all classes of workers and numbering millions.

Against strikers and leaders interfering in any manner with better-disposed men who show themselves willing and ready to work.

Against treachery and ingratitude toward non-union men on the part of employers after their business has been saved through the coming to their rescue of independent workmen at periods of strike, boycott and peril. For all such rescuers let "whatsoever may be right" in the way of continuous employment and adequate wages be done by their employers.

Against the "closed shop" and all forms of attempted monopoly of the industries, by whomsoever undertaken. Against political, legislative, executive and judicial compromise with crime for improper ends.

Against demagogical union-labor politics, and the political, legislative and executive raids on capital and enterprise unless they have first been shown to be lawless. "Captains of industry" are neither to be condemned nor punished merely because they operate upon a large scale, any more than if they operate upon a small scale; they are blame-worthy and punishable upon conviction, and only after proof of guilt.

It is curious and significant that Francis J. Henry and his unbalanced supporters have never undertaken to deny or dispute the fundamental truths here set down, or to assert that they are not based upon the law of this country and the law of right and justice.—Ed. Times.]

ANOTHER NEW POWDER. Crackerjack May Have Rival in the Local Invention of Fee and Raggins.

The Cracker Jack powder promoters, who expect to put out an explosive that is to raise peculiar Cain with the old-fashioned dynamite, are to have a rival in their field if the claims of W. M. Fee and Lee Raggins are substantiated by results. Moreover, these men say they have already tested and proven their powder in gunnery, and that it has much more force than any of the ordinary gun powders now used. They say they can have it ready for use at any time.

Like the other new powder, this explosive is claimed to be free from all filler and all offensive odor, thus giving the same advantages to it as are claimed for the other, viz: the elimination of all diseases resulting from the smoke, such as miners' consumption, and no loss of time in waiting for smoke to clear after a blast, as well as safety in handling. It is claimed, in fact, by Mr. Fee, that it will never be extinguished by concussion under any circumstances, but it must be discharged by lighting. It is also impervious to dampness, so that it can be used in wet mines, also when an enemy is supposed to be in the neighborhood.

With this powder there will no longer be any place for the old expression, "Trust in God and keep your powder dry," as the last part will be an obsolete precaution.

Fee is a miner and he has given the powder some slight tests in blasting, but his main attention has been centered upon its efficiency as ammunition. In this, he says, he tested it in competition with two brands of smokeless in a shotgun, and shooting at a target, while the others did not even imbed themselves in the wood.

Raggins, who, with Fee, invented the powder, is a barber in this city. He has been interested in the subject for a number of years, and the process of manufacture is to be kept a strict secret, and is not to be patented. The powder is brown, whereas the Cracker Jack is white.

The investors are both Angelenos and hope to establish a factory in the process of manufacture is to be kept a strict secret, and is not to be patented. The powder is brown, whereas the Cracker Jack is white.
